

Fiberglass Slide Gates

Products specifically designed for making manufacturing assembly lines more efficient, such as sliding gates on an above ground skid prep area, can be designed for your application. Or fiberglass gates can be used for waterway control systems and water treatment sludge gates.

Another specific example is a guard that slides in front of a high speed machine and the fiberglass panel was a great solution — durable, easy to use and lightweight.

